

COMMUNITY MEAL – An enthusiastic corps of volunteers at Temple Ner Tamid in Bloomfield planned, prepared, and served a warm meal for the hungry in the community. Among those leading the effort were Sharyn Mandell, Fred Pressman, Steph Lurie, Amy Winkelman, and chefs Suzanne and Michael Barr, as well as 22 children who helped serve, greet, and cleaned up.

PAJAMA PARTY

The Partnership for Jewish Learning and Life hosted a PJ Library Havdalah/Tu B'Shevat Pajama Party Feb. 7 at the Lewis Morris Park Cultural Center in Morristown. Twelve families from the Greater MetroWest area came together for snacks and treats, crafts, and singing with guitarist Lincoln Richman.

KIDS CLUB – The Maplewood Jewish Center Kids Club recently celebrated Tu B'Shevat by decorating apples and enjoying a traditional Israeli meal.

LEARNING THE AMIDA – Students of the Hebrew Language Program of Temple B'nai Abraham recently participated in a program. From left, Ben Nikpour, Ryan Green, and Adin Kurtz, learn the "Avot v'Imahot."

TONI'S KITCHEN – Members of Congregation Agudath Israel of Caldwell recently volunteered at Toni's Kitchen in Montclair, which assists low-income families through tutoring programs, mentoring and counseling groups, and summer camps and offers guests healthy and nutritious meals.

GALA COMMITTEE – Members of the Jewish Federation of South Orange County's gala committee, from left, Carol Singer and Robert Rose, and standing, Carol Singer, Jim Shrager, Carol Marcus, and Robert Rose, recently met to discuss JHS's annual gala, scheduled for May 26.

GO RED DAY – Claudia Irmieri, RN, CCRN, APN, right, a cardiac clinical nurse specialist from Temple University Hospital, visited Village Apartments of the Jewish Federation in South Orange County to observe that seniors can take to reduce their personal risk of cardiovascular disease during the senior observance. With Irmieri are, from left, Stella Locker, Adam Mecinski, Sandy Lublin, and Estelle...